The Chinese Government having (through the Hon. Anson Burlingame) conceded to this Company the privilege of connecting the great seaports of the Empire by submarine electric telegraph cable, we propose commencing operations in China, and laying down a line of nine hundred miles at once, between the following ports, viz:

	Population.
Canton	1,000,000
Macoa	60,000
Hong-Kong	250,000
Swatow	200,000
Amoy	250,000
Foo-Chow	1,250,000
Wan-Chu	300,000
Ningpo	400,000
Hang Chean	1,200,000
Shanghai	1,000,000
Total	5,910,000

These ports have a foreign commerce of $900,000,000, and an enormous domestic trade, besides which we have the immense internal commerce of the Empire, radiating from these points, through its canals and navigable rivers.

The cable being laid, this company proposes erecting land lines, and establishing a speedy and trustworthy means of communication, which must command there, as every where else, the communications of the Government, of business, and of social life especially in China. She has no postal system, and her only means now of communicating information is by couriers on land, and by steamers on water.

The Western World knows that China is a very large country, in the main densely peopled; but few yet realize that she contains more than a third of the human race. The latest returns made to her central authorities for taxing purposes by the local magistrate make her population Four hundred and Fourteen millions, and this is more likely to be under than over the actual aggregate. Nearly all of these, who are over ten years old, not only can but do read and write. Her civilization is peculiar, but her literature is as extensive as that of Europe. China is a land of teachers and traders; and the latter are exceedingly quick to avail themselves of every proffered facility for procuring early information. It is observed in California that the Chinese make great use of the telegraph, though it there transmits messages in English alone. To-day great numbers of fleet steamers are owned by Chinese merchants, and used by them exclusively for the transmission of early intelligence. If the telegraph we propose connecting all their great seaports, were now in existence it is believed that its business would pay the cost within the first two years of its successful operation, and would steadily increase thereafter.

No enterprise commends itself as in a greater degree remunerative to capitalists, and to our whole people. It is of vast national importance commercially, politically and evangelically.

☞ The stock of this Company has been unqualifiedly recommended to capitalists and business men, as a desirable investment by editorial articles in the New York Herald, Tribune, World, Times, Post, Express, Independent, and in the Philadelphia North American, Press, Ledger, Inquirer, Age, Bulletin and Telegraph.

Shares of this company, to a limited number, may be obtained at $50 each, $10 payable down, $15 on the 1st of November, and $25 payable in monthly instalments of $2.50 each, commencing December 1, 1868, on application to

THE RIGHTS OF THE STATE.

The following passage from the inaugural address of Governor Palmer, of Illinois, should be read and pondered by every Republican. Radical as Governor Palmer is, he has still too much respect for the position he occupies, and for the State which has placed him in it, to let the aggressions of Congress go unrebuked.

"Now that the war is ended, and all its proper objects attained, the public welfare demands a recurrence to the true principles that underlie our system of government, and one of the best established and most distinctly recognized of these is, that the federal government is one of enumerated powers. It is one of the enumerated powers of the federal government to regulate commerce among the several States, and from this grant of power an attempt is made to infer that of creating corporations with the power to enter any of the States, take private property as for public uses, and prosecute every corporate enterprise, regardless of State authority. The correctness of this inference is not admitted, but if it were conceded to be just in view of the embarrassments it would create, the power ought not to be exercised. Such corporations would embarass the operations of those already created by the States, they would be exempt from taxation by State authority—in short the State would have no power, by taxation or otherwise, to retard, burthen, or in any manner control the operations of such incorporations. It is essential to the usefulness of the State government that their just authority should be respected by that of the nation. Already the authority of the States is in a manner paralyzed by a growing conviction that all their powers are in some sense derivative and subordinate, and not original and independent. The State governments are a part of the American system of government. They fill a well defined place, and their just authority must be respected by the Federal Government, if it is expected that their laws will be obeyed. "A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of government is essential to civil liberty," and in this view I have thought it proper to invite your attention to these subjects.

It is the clear duty of the national government to decline the exercise of all doubtful powers when the neglect to do so would be to bring it into fields of legislation already occupied by the States, and thereby raising embarrassing questions, and presenting a singular and dangerous instance of jurisdictions claiming the right to control the same class of subjects, and creating rival corporations with [illegible] powers. Arguments may be found for the exercise of this class of powers by Congress, but they are greatly overbalanced by the evils it would produce."

THE NUMBER of pounds of sugar imported into the United States during the year 1868, as stated in the report of Commissioner Wells, was 1,693,500,000, valued at $49,65,827. The average amount of duty charged under the present tariff was fur cents per pound, and aggregated the sum of $67,740,000, which, added to the original value makes $117,356,827, as the actual cost of the sugar consumed in the United States for the year 1868. But this does not include the profits and charges of the importer, the wholesale and retail merchants, which amount to many millions more. Sugar is an article that enters into general consumption, enjoyed alike by rich and poor, and cannot fairly be classed among the luxuries. The tax, therefore, of over sixty-seven millions of dollars—or nearly one-and-a half times the original cost—is, to a very great extent, an actual tax upon the industry of the country.

GETTING THE WORST OF IT.—"Do you want to buy any berries to-day?" said a little boy to me one afternoon.

I looked at the little fellow, and saw that he was poorly dressed. In his hand he held a basket full of ripe raspberries.

I told him I should like some; and taking the basket from him, stepped into the house. He did not follow me.

"Why don't you come in and see if I measure your berries rightly?" said I. "How do you know but I may cheat you and take more than I agreed for?"

The boy looked up at me and smiled. "I am not afraid," said he, "for you would get the worst of it, ma'am."

"Get the worst of" I said "what do you mean?"

"Why, ma'am, I should only lose my berries, but you would be stealing.—Don't you think that would be the worst for you."

Let us think of this when we are tempted in any way to cheat another. How often do you hear persons pity any one who had ther property stolen from him. Yet, although a man lose all, and keep honest he is rich indeed, compared with the man who has robbed him.

A lady asked a very silly Scotchman how it happened that the Scots, who came out of their own country, were, generally speaking, men of more ability than those who remained at home. "O, madam" said he, "the reason is obvious. At every outlet there are persons stationed to examine every person leaving the country, and for the honor of the country no one is permitted to leave, who is not a man of understanding." "Then," said she, "I suppose you were smuggled."

A novelist describing his hero as making love "like two bonded ware houses in flames on a dark, windy night, and the fire department out of repair."

Ike's last trick was to throw Mrs. Partington's old gater in the alley, and call the old lady down from the third floor to see an alley-gater

MARSAAL NEY—A STRANGE STORY OF HIS EARLY CAREER.

Mr. C. H. Browning contributes to the Round Table a curious narrative concerning the early career of this famous French soldier, which differs materially from the current biographies. According to Mr. Browning's story, Marshal Ney's proper name was Michael Ney. He was a captain in General Wayne't army in the war with the Indians. His career was marked by the most daring deeds of valor, and he was called among the soldiers by the last title Napoleon ever gave him—the "Bravest of the Brave." Captain Michael Rodolph was young and fiery, and on one occasion feeling himself insulted by Gen. Wayne, he challenged him. General Wayne reported his subordinate conduct to the Government, and General Washington struck his name from the army list. Rodolph then turned his attention to farming on Elk creek, near Elkton, Md., and possessing himself of a small vessel, he traded in tobacco to the West Indies. Such a restless nature could not be satisfied with so prosaic a pursuit.—Having unexpectedly put back from one of his trips, he found his wife engaged in a suspicious affair with another man. Without saying a word to any one, he left her and her children in peaceful possession of his rival, returned to his vessel, made sail, and never returned.

M. Pinckney, then our Minister in France recognized him shortly afterwards, under his new name, in a review in the Champ de Mars: and Mr. Browning says "his friends in Maryland carry out the theory of the identity of the two men, by supposing that Rodolph proceeded to Bordeaux with his cargo, sold his vessel, established a shop, and retailed his tobacco; and with his daring military taste and genius, enlisted in the army of the revolution as a common soldier, from which his general superiority and the technical knowledge acquired under General Wayne soon raised him.

The wife of Rodolph married again after her husband's desertion, and settled in the obscure town of Brunswick, in Georgia; and it is a noticeable fact that some years ago, young Ney—Count Ney, who was for some years French charge at Rio de Janeiro, well known to many officers of our navy—visited the United States, and set out immediately after his arrival in New York for that place and remained several weeks in the neighborhood as the guest of the Rodolph family, who were independant and respectable farmers, but not people likely to receive a visit from Count Ney, under ordinary circumstances. Altogether, this is a romantic story, and Count Ney will do the world a great service by disclosing the facts in his [illegible] recording it as Mr. Browning earnestly calls upon him to do.

ANECDOTE OF GENERAL HANCOCK.

We cut the following anecdote of General Hancock from the History of the 140th regiment, published in one of our exchanges. The author speaking of the scarcity of rations, says:

They were scarce with us—so much so that some boys bought of other regiments. During this scarcity, Blake happened to be on guard at Hancock's head-quarters. He was pacing very industriously in front of the General's tent, about daylight, when the General rolled out of bed and came to the door.

"Soldier, are you from the 140th?

"Yes, sir."

"Is it true rations are scarce?"

"Yes, sir."

"You haven't enough?"

"No sir."

"How many have you? Half enough?"

"I think so, sir."

"Well it's a d—n poor soldier who can't steal the other half." With the last remark he went to bed again, while Blake renewed his labors.

Before long the cook began preparing for breakfast. One thing after another was put upon the table in the mess tent, and finally a plate of hot biscuit. While the cook returned to the kitchen, Blake stepped up, emtied them into his haversack, and resumed his walk. Breakfast was announced and the General went in. He had not been there long before he called the cook to bring some bread. The cook told him he had put hot cakes on the table. Some conversation passed between them, and the General stepped to the door, watched Blake very closely. Blake walked his beat apparently unconscious of any one being within a mile. Finally the General called a corporal, relieved Blake and sent him to his quarters. He had twenty-eight biscuit in his havesack.

ADMIRAL HOWE, when a captain, was once hastily awakened in the middle of the night by the lieutenant of the watch, who informed him, with great agitation, that the ship was on fire near the magizine.—"If that be the case," said he, rising leisurely to put on his clothes, "we shall soon here another report of the matter." The lieutenant flew back to the scene of danger, and almost instantly returning, exclaimed: "You need not, sir, be afraid; the fire is extinguished." "Afraid!" exclaimed Howe; "what do you mean by that, sir? I never was afraid in my life!" and looking the lieutenant full in the face, he added: "Pray, how does a man feel, sir, when he is afraid? I need not ask how he looks."

A Chicago preacher has been pointing out "the way to Hell." A wicked cotemporary says: "Persons desiring a complete guide to Chicago should purchase the sermon."

A house-keeper in Ohio, recently dropped dead of apoplexy while tanning an overcoat thief. The latter remarked that it was a judgment and walked off.

FASHIONABLE RELIGION.

Fanny Fern makes the following sharp thrust at fashionable Religion:

Our Catholic brethren have set us, at least, one good example; their churches are not silent as the tomb on week days. Their worshippers do not do up all their regligion on Sunday. It may be only for a few moments they step in through that open church door, on a week-day, to kneel and lay down burdens too heavy else to be borne. I like the custom. I should rather say the reminder, and the opportunity thus afforded them; and I heartily wish our protestant churches could thus be opened. If rich Christians object to the promiscuous use of the velvet cushions and gilded prayer-books, at least let the aisles and the alter be free to those who need God on the week day—for the poor, the tried, the tempted—for those who shrink, in their shabby habiliments, from the Sunday exhibition of fine toilettes, and supreme Christianity. Were I a minister, and obliged to preach to paniers and diamonds and satins on Sunday, I think I should have to ease my heart in some such way as this to make my pastoral life endurable, else my office would seem to me the most hollow of all mockeries. "The rich and the poor meet to-gether, and the Lord is the Maker of them all," should be inscribed out side my church door, had I one. I could not preach to those paniers and their owners. My tongue would be paralyzed at the sight of those kneeling distortions of womanhood, bearing such a resemblance to organ-grinders' monkeys. I am not sure that I should not grow hysterical over it, and laugh and cry at the same breath, instead of preaching. I can never tell what vent my disgust would take; but I am sure it must have some escape valve. You may say that such worshippers (Heaven save the mark!) need preaching to. I tell you that women given over to "the devil and his works" are past praying for—"having eyes, they see not; having ears they hear not." They are ossified—impervious; they are Dead sea apples, full of ashes.

WHAT KILLED HIM!—A few years ago, when Judge Gould of Troy, lately deceased, was holding court in the city of New York, a prisoner was being tried before him for willful murder, in causing the death of a man by a pistol shot. An eminent physician and surgeon was on the stand as a witness for the defence.

The prisoner's counsel, an adroit lawyer, attempted to show that the man, who lived some little time after being shot, might have died from some other cause, and examined his witness after this style:

"Doctor, would not such and such a [illegible]

"O, yes sir."

"Well, doctor, might not this man have died from such and such causes?"

"O yes, he might."

"That is quite sufficient for us," exclaimed the defendant's counsel, with an air of triumph, twirlling his eyeglass.

Judge Gould turned on his seat, bent his large, keen, penetrating black eye full on the witness, and said, a little sharply:

"Doctor, you have now told us what might have caused this man's death; now will you be so kind as to tell me what did cause his death?"

"The bullet, sir," answered the witness.

This ended the case.

A LESSON FOR TEACHERS.—A distinguished teacher writes: After I saw Mr. Rarey breaking a colt I learned the secret of governing my boys. I found it was not by irritating appeals and nervous commands, but by being calm and resolute. The calmer I got, the more perfect self-possession, the more I governed and controled my school. Many teachers spend nearly the whole time in trying to govern his school, and does not succeed then, because he has not learned the great truth that Rarey taught us so impressively, that you can govern a horse's legs by getting hold of his brain. They should know that the controlling power is in the mind, the will, and not in the whipping power, or the scolding power.

ELOQUENCE.—A certain political speaker closed an address in behalf of his party, with the following florid peroration: "Build a worm fence around a winters supply of summer weather; skim the clouds from the sky with a teaspoon; catch a thunderbolt in a bladder; break a hurricane to harness; ground sluice an earthquake; bake h—ll in an ice house; lasso an avalanch; pin a diaper on the crater of an active volcano; hive all the stars in a nail keg; hang the ocean on a grapevine to dry; put the sky to soak in a goard; unbuck le the belly-band of etrenity, and paste 'to let' on the sun and moon, but never, sir—never for a moment, sir, delude yourself with the idea that any ticket or party can beat our candidates."

A late Judge, whose personal appearance was as unprepossessing as his legal knowledge was profound and his intellect keen, interrupted a female witness—Humbugged you! my good woman, what do you mean by that?" said he sternly. Well, my lord," replied the woman, "I don't know how to explain exactly; but if a girl called your lordship a handsome man, now she would be humbugging you."

A Montana paper recounting the shooting of a catamount found prowling in a hotel near Helena, points to the humorous moral that "this should be a lesson to imposters trying to pass themselves off as members of the press."

"I tell you what sir," said a Yankee of his opponent, "he don't amount to a sum in arithmetic; add him up, and there's nothing to carry!"

HOUSE AND FARM.

Spiced Beef.—Take a piece of beef from the fore-quarter, weighing ten pounds. Those who like fat should select a fatty piece, those who prefer lean may take the shoulder clod, or upper part of the fore leg. Take one pint of salt, one teacup of molasses or brown sugar, one tablespoonful of ground cloves, allspice and pepper, and two tablespoonsful of pulverized saltpetre. Place the beef in a deep pan; rub with this mixture. Turn and rub each side twice a day for a week. Then wash off the spices; put in a pot of boiling water, and as often as it boils hard, turn in a teacupful of cold water. It must simmer for five hours on the back part of the stove. When cold press under heavy weight, and you will never desire to buy corned beef of the butcher again. Your pickle will do for another ten pounds of beef, first rubbing into it a handful of salt. It can be renewed and a piece kept in preparation every day. This has been used many years by the writer, and is good to pickle tongues fresh from the market.

Adulterated Vinegar.—A very large portion of the Vinegar retailed at the stores and shops is the vilest compound immaginable. The Scientific American coutions the public against the use of vinegar made from sulphuric and other acids, as very injurious to persons, and destructive of pickles and other articles intended to be preserved by it. A gallon, compounded of sulphuric acid, can be made for a cent or two, the acid proving the cheapest substitute for the alcohol, which in some form is the proper ingredient.—To detect sulphuric acid in vinegar, pour a few drops of the chloride of barium, or nitrate of baryta into a small quantity of vinegar in a glass.—If the liquid becomes cloudy in appearance, it should all be turned into the gutter; the sulphuric acid is present in injurious quantity.

Spice Vinegar for Pickles.—For every pint of spiced vinegar it is intended to make, take one ounce of black pepper, half an ounce of salt, half an ounce of ginger, quarter of an ounce of allspice and if desired to be hot, add a quarter drachm of cayenne, or a few capsicums. Bruise the whole of these materials, and put them into a jar or wide-mouthed bottle, with the best vinegar, tie over with a bladder, or cork the bottle close. Shake the bottle occasionally, and in a week or two the spiced vinegar will be ready for use, either as a relish to cold meats, or for pickling.

Eggs and Potatoes.—Remove the skins from some boiled Irish potatoes in small pieces about the size of a grain of corn, and season with salt and pepper. To a quart of potatoes thus prepared take the yolks of six eggs and the whites of three, and beat them well together; have some butter in a frying pan, and when it is melted put in the potatoes; when they are quite hot stir in the eggs, and continue stirring, so as to mix them well with the potatoes; and until the eggs are set; then pepper and send them to the table in a hot dish.

To relieve from the terrible effects of running a nail in the foot of a man or horse, take peach leaves, apply them to the wound, confined with bandage, and the cure is as if by magic. Renew the application twice a day if necessary, and one application generally does the work. This remedy has cured both man and horse in a few hours, when they were apparently on the point of having lock-jaw.

Young Cattle should have as good treatment and quarters as the cows and oxen. The rapid growth they are making when they come in from grass should be kept up by good hay and roots. The bog hay and frozen buts, on which they are so often starved, are better used for bedding and the manure heap. Give them full, generous feed, and they will astonish you by their rapid growth.

In a recent lecture on the breeding of the horse, delivered at Manchester, N. H., Col. Lang said the finest gentlemen's horses he had ever seen were in France. There breeding is carried as near yerfection as possible in this class as well as in the sporting horses, in which the French people seem to be much interested, and bid fair to beat the world.

A Hamburg, N. Y., farmer, who has had large experience in feeding cabbage and turnips to cows, says his practice is to feed immediately after milking—never before—and he has never been troubled with the milk being flavored. He also says he feeds turnips whole with the tops on, as there is no danger from choking when fed in this way.

Some one says that when mechanics have land they generally give better cultivation than farmers; they have more grapes, pears, strawberries, and water-melons, and earlier potatoes and cucumbers. They devote more care and labor to the small space, and so reap a larger profit from it.

Roast veal and ckicken bones make a very nice soup, boiled with vegetables; but, add a handful of macaroni; break it up fine and boil the soup half an hour after it is put in; color the soup with catsup.

Milch Cows should have a succulent food, and meal, if you wish them to show all their good qualities. Feed generally, and keep the flesh increasing, as well as the milk.

A Minnesota farmer says: "We raise four hundred bushels of potatoes to the acre here, which would be a big thing if we didn't also raise bugs enough to eat 'em all up."

Fowl culture is receiving attention in Paris. 'I've got a hennery,' lately said a great lady to her cousin. 'Dear me,' said the cousin. 'I thought his name was Charles.'

NEGRO SUFFRAGE AT LAST.

There is now pending in Congress a proposition to amend the Constitution of the United States so as to prohibit the States and the Federal Government from disfranchising any citizen of the United States on account of race or color; or rather, to give the proposed amendment in its exact language:

"The right of citizens of the United States to vote, and hold office shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude."

This proposition will doubtless pass both houses of Congress by the requisite two-thirds vote, and it will then remain only for three-fourths of the States to ratify the amendment in order to make it part and parcel of the Constitution.

We do not propose at present to discuss the abstract question of negro suffrage. It is our purpose at this time to call attention to the trickery by which this change in the fundamental law is to be foisted upon the people.

The Constitution provides that it may be amended by propositions submitted by Congress to the State Legislatures, or to Conventions of the people of the several States. If the radicals in Congress who propose this suffrage amendment, sincerely desire to obtain a fair expression of the popular will in regard to that amendment, they will not submit it to legislatures already elected, but to Conventions to be chosen with direct reference to the question. The legislatures elected prior to Congress, do not and cannot reflect the popular judgment upon the question, because the people did not pass upon it in voting for members of the legislature. Therefore it is nothing less than a fraudulent forestalling of the people, to submit this amendment to the legislatures now in existence. But that this will be done, who doubts? It is the game which the radicals intend to play, for well do they know that if the people can get a chance to vote upon this amendment they will reject it by a most unprecedented vote.

It seems quite probable, now, that the adoption of this amendment will be an issue at the coming elections. Even should Congress decide to submit the question to the State Legislatures, these cannot act with sufficient rapidity to settle it before next October. New legislatures will then be chosen and in the election of members of these bodies, the suffrage amendment will become the great, overshadowing issue. We, therefore, call upon Democrats everywhere to prepare for the struggle. Let the question be discussed among the people. Let moderate, reflecting "Republicans" be told of the purpose of their party to force negro suffrage, aye, negro office-holding (for this is also specified in the amendment) upon the country through the agency of Congress and the State Legislatures. A full and clear understanding of this issue by the popular masses, is all that is necessary to insure the defeat of this darling scheme of the radical politicians. Let the argument against it be commenced at once.

THE RADICAL PRINCIPLE.

Can any one tell us what principle of civil government is to-day held by the radical party? Surely it cannot be pretended that republicanism has a place in its creed. A republican government is which the people rule, by and through representatives chosen by themselves. But the people of some of the States are deliberately prevented by the legislation of the radical party, from electing such representatives, and are thus deprived of the right of self-government. Therefore, this party is not republican.

The would-be exponents of radicalism talk a great deal about "equal rights." But they sustain the most infamously unequal system of revenue ever invented by man. They exempt millions of idle capital from burdens of taxation, whilst the industrial and commercial interests are made to bear almost the entire weight of it. Even upon the suffrage question there are only a few of the bolder men among them who dare to stand upon the platform of equality. Boutwell favors the enfranchisement of all males above the age of twenty-one, without regard to race or color. But this only makes the inequality of the elective franchise so much more marked and offensive.—Suffrage is not equal nor universal so long as it is limited to one sex. Besides, whilst Boutwell and his coadjutors are talking of enfranchising the negro, they are striving to exclude the foreigner from citizenship. "Equal rights," forsooth! Let the philanthropist seek that blessing any where else than in the creed of the radicals.

On the questions of finance, such as the public debt and banking, where stands the Radical party? Ask Senator Morton, and you get one answer; ask Senator Edmunds, and you get another; ask Senator Sherman, and you are vouchsafed a third; and so on to the end of the list of Radical worthies: all differing upon these important subjects. Has confusion worse confounded.

There is a principle to which, one would naturally suppose, every radical in the country would fully subscribe, viz: "To the victors belong the spoils." Not so, however. Even this doctrine heretofore held in common by politicians of all parties, has been overturned by these revolutionists. It is held by these reformers that only to radicals belong the spoils. For instance, Mr. Young, of Kentucky, Mr. Switzler, of Missouri, Gen. Morgan, of Ohio, are elected to Congress by large majorities. But they are not radicals, and the seats to which they are elected are given to their opponents at the election who are radicals. This then, is the great liberal, generous, comprehensive principle which underlies the structure of this party. Who so squeamish that he cannot stand upon it. Who so filled with mawkish sentimentality of conscience, fairness, or right, that he undertakes to object to it? The most profound philosophers, the greatest reformers, the gentlest of philanthropists, the most pious divines, endorse this grand radical principle. Know this O reader, and cease to wonder that the radical party carries elections.

ARTICLE XV.

A radical member of the legislature has introduced in the House a resolution in favor of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States making "manhood suffrage" universal, and putting the elective franchise beyond the regulation and control of the several States. So certain do its advocates feel that the ... ratified by three-fourths of the States ... they have already named it "Article XV."

It requires little argument to convince even a radical that this amendment, if adopted, would change at a blow, the entire form of government. The regulation of the qualifications of its own citizens is the highest prerogative that a State can own. Let this power be taken away, and the States as a part of our system of government, will cease to exist. There would be nothing left of State authority worth preserving. If the Legislature of Pennsylvania shall ratify the proposed amendment, it may as well adjourn never to meet again. It would have performed a base act of self-emasculation, and its members should then, as a final act in the contemptible performance, be kicked out of the chambers and have the doors closed on them forever. In adopting this plan of subverting the power of the State, and centralizing the government, the radicals are employing the forms of the Constitution to destroy the Constitution itself. Deprived of the power to determine the qualifications of their own citizens, the State will lose their dignity and authority in the government. The office of Governor of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will become as contemptible as that of a satrap of the Lower Empire, who merely obeyed the decrees which he received from the capital. Her Legislature will be reduced to amending road laws, and to passing acts relating to the destruction of game. This amendment will prostrate the States helpless and hopeless, at the feet of the general government. The power of the States utterly destroyed, the federal form of government ceases to exist, consolidation rapidly ensues, and despotism closes the career of the American republic.

The resolution before the Pennsylvania legislature amounts to nothing more than an invitation to such petty States as Vermont, Rhode Island and New Hampshire to intervene by amendment to the Constitution, and constrain the people of Pennsylvania to an act which they could not perform for themselves. It is a cowardly, unmanly proposition. It seeks to evade a direct issue before the people, by putting it before the legislatures of the several States. It is a sneaking attempt to rob the citizens of each State of their right to determine the question for themselves. If the radicals of Pennsylvania are so enamored of the negro that he must be allowed to exercise the privileges of a voter, let them confer these franchises themselves, and not invoke the aid of strangers in other States. If they must clothe the man and brother with all the rights of a citizen, let them amend the Constitution of Pennsylvania. It is only necessary to strike out the word "white" where it occurs, and the thing is done. But the radicals evidently prefer to reach their darling purpose by an amendment to the Constitution which will change the form and spirit of the federal government.

With the democrats this question rises far above negro suffrage. To them it is a matter of small moment whether a few thousand negroes shall be added to the radical vote of Pennsylvania. Negro suffrage is now doing its worst in the South, where the white population is given over to the domination of the semi-barbarous blacks and their vulgar and impudent carpet-bag masters. They prefer that the Constitution of Pennsylvania shall be amended that the negro may be admitted to citizenship, rather than that the Constitution of their country shall be utterly destroyed, by the subversion of the power and dignity of the several States. Even if negro suffrage be the great boon which its advocates claim it to be, it is still not important enough to be obtained at the sacrifice of the present form of government. If this amendment shall succeed, the power and dignity of Pennsylvania in the Union are gone forever. It is the entering wedge which the enemies of the federal government are employing for its destruction. It is the instrument which is to be used by cunning hypocrites in the name of humanity, to subvert the liberties of the people.

—Since the above article was placed in type, the bill proposing a new amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which is to be article XV, passed the House, by a vote of 150 to 42, Bingham, Baker, Hawkins and Polsley alone among the radicals, voting in the negative. The text of the bill is as follows:

Be it resolved, etc., Two-thirds of both houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures, shall be held as part of said Constitution.

Section 1. The right of any citizen of the United States shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, by reason of race, color or previous condition of slavery of any citizen, or class of citizens of the United States.

Second. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

MR. JOHN W. FORNEY, editor of the Philadelphia Press, is traveling in the South and is ... letters ... own ... paper. In a late letter from Lenoir, North Carolina, he is delighted to find the people of the "State so temperate and orderly!" he "has met a great number of the Confederate (why not rebel, O FORNEY?) officers, and in every instance found them courteous, intelligent, and full of inquiries;" the election of Grant "is regarded by the whole population as the best thing that could have happened to them;" and, on every side, when he is not surprised he is overjoyed at the goodness, loyalty, and prosperity of the people. How is this? Does a closer inspection show that the ... correspondents have been guilty of great ... in their accounts of people and things in the South? Or has this glowing account something to do with the Southern land speculations of a certain Philadelphia company?

P. GRAY MEEK, Esq., editor of the Bellefonte Watchman, against whom the officials of the Dickenson Seminary, at Williamsport, brought a suit for libel, has been found not guilty by the jury trying the cause. This thing of prosecuting editors for libel will soon be Aus ge spielt. And so it should be.

THE DEFICIENCY BILL.

Again Congress is called to confront real features of the Appropriation bill of the last Congress. At the time when the appropriations were made it was clearly shown that there would be a heavy deficiency, but the arguments went for nothing. It did not suit the purposes of the Radical majority at that time to make a full and fair exhibit of what the actual expenses of the Government were certain to be. A presidential election was to be held, and the party in power, to stave off defeat, resolved to make such appropriations as would serve to convince those of the people who were not versed in governmental affairs that the public expenses were not as heavy as represented by the Democratic journals. But murder will out. The Deficiency bill now before Congress will amount to some twenty-one million dollars. The fraud and treachery of the Radical party are so clearly shown in this transaction, that it is to be hoped that the next appropriation bill will be passed in such a form as will enable the people to know in advance what the probable expenses of the Government will be. A deficit of twenty-one million indicates shameful ignorance of governmental expenses on the part of Congress—being charitable enough to attribute the deficit to ignorance. But such was not the real cause. Congress knew, as well as it knew that it was in session, that the appropriations last year were too small. The figures and protests of the heads of the various departments were completely disregarded. Partisan purposes were to be subserved, and all other considerations made to conform to this end. We hope the fact that such an enormous deficiency as twenty-one million will open the eyes of the people to the true condition of affairs.—Evening Herald.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.

In the Senate, Mr. Edmunds, from the Committee on retrenchment, reported back House bill amending the tenure-of-office act, with a substitute authorizing the President to remove a cabinet officer at pleasure, during the recess of the Senate, and to suspend any officer during the recess without the assignment of special reasons therefor. The majority of the judiciary committee reported against the admission of Senator Hill, of Georgia, at present. The bill relative to the Central Pacific railroad was then taken up and discussed until the hour of adjournment.

In the House a large number of bills and resolutions were introduced and referred. Mr. Robinson, of New York, introduced a resolution protesting against the ratification of the treaty for the payment of the Alabama claims. It was also referred. The consideration of the Pacific railroad bill was then resumed, and after some debate was referred to the committee on public lands.

WASHINGTON, January 26.

In the Senate a bill was introduced to reorganize the Navy Department. Several other bills were introduced and referred. The annual pension appropriation bill and the Military Academy appropriation bill were reported back by the Committee on appropriations, with amendments. The bill in relation to the Central Pacific railroad was discussed at considerable length.

The House, apparently not anxious to proceed to business spent much time in deciding points of order and calling the yeas and nays. The bill of Mr. Lynch, of Maine, providing for the gradual resumption of specie payments, coming up, it was discussed by that gentleman and others.

WASHINGTON, January 27.

In the Senate the judiciary committee reported adversely on the resolution to pay Southern Senators from the beginning of the Fortieth Congress, and also on the memorial to provide by law for the election of President and Vice-President directly by the people. Mr. Chandler introduced a bill to prevent the collection of illegal imposts under the color of State authority. After the consideration of other business the funding bill was taken up, and Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, advocated it at considerable length, on the general subject of the finances of the country. He was followed by Mr. McCreery, of Kentucky, whose remarks elicited much attention. The subject was then laid over, and the bill in relation to the Central Branch Union Pacific railroad taken up. After debate the bill was rejected—yeas 20, nays 27.

In the House the specie bill of Mr. Lynch and the pension bill were briefly discussed and laid over. The universal suffrage bill was next taken up, and Mr. Eldridge made a speech against it, after which the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill was called up and considered, but not disposed of. The House held an evening session for general debate.

WASHINGTON, January 28.

The Senate passed the House bill allowing the present Representatives from the Southern States to nominate to the Secretary of the Navy midshipmen to be entered at the Naval Academy before the 4th of March. A number of bills were introduced and referred, among them one to construct, under the auspices of the Postoffice Department, a national line of telegraph between Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. The joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution so as to allow "universal suffrage" was again taken up, and several amendments proposed. The subject was discussed until the hour of adjournment.

In the House the army appropriation bill was reported. The reconstruction committee reported a resolution declaring that Georgia had not fully complied with the terms of the reconstruction acts; had excluded colored members of the legislature, &c., and directing the committee on reconstruction to inquire whether any further legislation is necessary by the Fortieth Congress in relation to right of members from Georgia to seats in the House. This resolution was adopted—yeas 17, nays 3. The pension bill and Indian appropriation bill occupied the remainder of the day's session without any result.

WASHINGTON, January 29.

The Senate amended and passed the bill to reduce the military forces of the United States. A long debate then ensued on the proposed constitutional amendment to provide for colored suffrage, but no final result was reached.

In the House, the Postoffice appropriation bill was reported, as was also a bill appropriating $51,700 for the payment of salaries of the Patent Office. The consideration of the universal suffrage bill was then resumed, and occupied the time of the House up to the hour of adjournment.

THE "AMERICAN YEAR BOOK AND National Register for 1869," the advance pages of which have been received, promises to be the best work of the kind ever issued. It is as full of interesting statistics and useful knowledge as an egg is of meat. It contains in one volume such a store of varied information as could only be gathered, with much difficulty, from a whole library. The volume will be issued during the present month. As it will be sold only by subscription, those desiring to secure agencies should at once apply to or address O. D. Case & Co., Publishers, Hartford, Conn.

Memphis, January 28.—Gov. Clayton, of Arkansas, says with regard to affairs in that State, that the militia had committed outrages, but the offenders, as far as practicable, were summarily dealt with. The militia acted as well as any other. Many outrages are committed by marauders following in their wake, representing themselves to be militia. The officers instructed the citizens to shoot down all who pretend to belong to the militia.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

"Let us have peace." Yes, but peace is not to be gained by such an administration as Governor Clayton's, in Arkansas. Within a few days, in Crittenden county, six white women were violated by his negro militia men—two, Mrs. Calloway and her sister—in the presence of Mr. Calloway, who when white militia came along before the escape of the black fiends, and handed him a gun, was not man enough to fire at the brute.

Judge Olin, of the District Supreme Court of Washington city, has prepared a decision in the matter of the claimants of the $20,000 reward offered by the city of Washington for the capture of the assassination conspirators, in which he holds that the claimants, having been at the time in the civil and military service of the United States, are not entitled to any portion of the reward.

Were the construction accounts closed it is believed that the larger portion of this amount would be applicable to the payment of interest on the funded debt of the company which is $4,000,000, at 7 per cent., and the unpaid interest of Baltimore city on 22,300,000 at 6 per cent. The receipts of the road last year were derived altogether from local sources, and from the development of practically about one-third of the territory tributary to it, and from this result the President is sanguine of defraying the interest liabilities of his company in a short time. Quotations from the report of the Board show a quarter million pounds of groceries shipped Eastward from Pittsburg last year, an increase of 30 per cent on the amount of 1867, and 100 per cent, on that of 1866, while the increased quantities of rolled and hammered iron, pig metal, queensware, glassware, &c., transported eastward by this road during the last year seem really astonishing.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE AT LAST.

There is now pending in Congress a proposition to amend the Constitution of the United States so as to prohibit the States and the Federal Government from disfranchising any citizen of the United States on account of race or color; or rather, to give the proposed amendment in its exact language:

"The right of citizens of the United States to vote and hold office shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude."

This proposition will, doubtless, pass both houses of Congress, by the requisite two-third vote, and it will then remain only for three-fourths of the States to ratify the amendment in order to make it part and parcel of the Constitution.

We do not propose, at present, to discuss the abstract question of negro suffrage. It is our purpose, at this time, to call attention to the trickery by which this change in the fundamental law is to be foisted upon the people.

The Constitution provides that it may be amended by propositions submitted by Congress to the State Legislatures, or to Conventions of the people of the several States. If the radicals in Congress who propose this suffrage amendment, sincerely desire to obtain a fair expression of the popular will in regard to that amendment, they will not submit it to legislatures already elected, but to Conventions to be chosen with direct reference to the question. The legislatures elected prior to the Congress, do not and cannot reflect the popular judgment upon the question, because the people did not pass upon it in voting for members of the legislature. Therefore it is nothing less than a fraudulent forestalling of the people, to submit this amendment to the legislatures now in existence. But that this will be done, who doubts? It is the game which the radicals intend to play, for well do they know that if the people can get a chance to vote upon this amendment, they will reject it by a most unprecedented vote.

It seems quite probable, now, that the adoption of this amendment will be an issue at the coming elections. Even should Congress decide to submit the question to the State Legislatures, these cannot act with sufficient rapidity to settle it before next October. New legislatures will then be chosen and in the election of members of these bodies, the suffrage amendment will become the great, overshadowing issue. We, therefore, call upon democrats everywhere to prepare for the struggle. Let the question be discussed among the people. Let moderate, reflecting "Republicans" be told of the purpose of their party to force negro suffrage, nay, negro office-holding (for this is also specified in the amendment) upon the country through the agency of Congress and the State Legislatures. A full and clear understanding of this issue, by the popular masses, is all that is necessary to insure the defeat of this darling scheme of the radical politicians. Let the argument against it be commenced at once.

THE RADICAL PRINCIPLE.

Can any one tell us what principle of civil government is to-day held by the radical party? Surely it cannot be pretended that republicanism has a place in its creed. A republic is a government in which the people rule, by and through representatives chosen by themselves. But the people of some of the States are deliberately prevented by the legislation of the radical party, from electing such representatives, and are thus deprived of the right of self-government. Therefore, this party is not republican.

The would-be exponents of radicalism talk a great deal about "equal rights." But they sustain the most infamously unequal system of revenue ever invented by man. They exempt millions of idle capital from burdens of taxation, whilst the industrial and commercial interests are made to bear almost the entire weight of it. Even upon the suffrage question there are only a few of the bolder men among them who dare to stand upon the platform of equality. Boutwell favors the enfranchisement of all males above the age of twenty-one, without regard to race or color. But this only makes the inequality of the elective franchise so much more marked and offensive.—Suffrage is not equal nor universal so long as it is limited to one sex. Besides, whilst Boutwell and his coadjutors are talking of enfranchising the negro, they are striving to exclude the foreigner from citizenship. "Equal rights," forsooth! Let the philanthropist seek that blessing any where else than in the creed of the radicals.

On the questions of finance, such as the public debt and banking, where stands the Radical party? Ask Senator Morton, and you get one answer; ask Senator Edmunds, and you get another; ask Senator Sherman, and you are vouchsafed a third; and so on to the end of the list of Radical worthies; all differing upon these important subjects. It is confusion worse confounded.

There is a principle to which, one would naturally suppose, every radical in the country would fully subscribe, viz: "To the victors belong the spoils." Not so, however. Even this doctrine heretofore held in common by politicians of all parties, has been overturned by these revolutionists. It is held by these reformers that only to radicals belong the spoils. For instance, Mr. Young, of Kentucky, Mr. Switzler, of Missouri, Gen. Morgan, of Ohio, are elected to Congress by large majorities. But they are not radicals, and the seats to which they are elected are given to their opponents at the election who are radicals. This then, is the great liberal, generous, comprehensive principle which underlies the structure of this party. Who so squeamish that he cannot stand upon it. Who so filled with mawkish sentimentality of conscience, fairness, or right, that he undertakes to object to it? The most profound philsophers, the greatest reformers, the gentlest of philanthropists, the most pious divines, endorse this grand radical principle. Know this, O reader, and cease to wonder that the radical party carries elections.

ARTICLE XV.

A radical member of the legislature has introduced in the House a resolution in favor of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, making "manhood suffrage" universal, and putting the elective franchise beyond the regulation and control of the several States. So certain do its advocates feel that the ... will be satified by three-fourths of the States, ... may have already named it "Article XV."

It requires little argument to convince even a radical that this amendment, if adopted, would change at a blow, the entire form of government. The regulation of the qualifications of its own citizens is the highest perogative that a State can own. Let this power be taken away, and the States as a part of our system of government, will cease to exist. There would be nothing left of State authority worth preserving. If the Legislature of Pennsylvania shall ratify the proposed amendment, it may as well adjourn never to meet again. It would have performed a base act of self-emasculation, and its members should then, as a final act in the contemptible performance, be kicked out of the chambers and have the doors closed on them forever. In adopting this plan of subverting the power of the State, and centralizing the government, the radicals are employing the forms of the Constitution to destroy the Constitution, itself. Deprived of the power to determine the qualifications of their own citizens, the States will lose their dignity and authority in the government. The office of Governor of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will become as contemptible as that of a satrap of the Lower Empire, who merely obeyed the decrees which he received from the capital. Her Legislature will be reduced to amending road laws, and to passing acts relating to the destruction of game. This amendment will prostrate the States helpless and hopeless, at the feet of the general government. The power of the States utterly destroyed, the federal form of government ceases to exist, consolidation rapidly ensues, and despotism closes the career of the American republic.

The resolution before the Pennsylvania legislature amounts to nothing more than an invitation to such petty States as Vermont, Rhode Island and New Hampshire to intervene by amendment to the Constitution, and constrain the people of Pennsylvania to an act which they could not perform for themselves. It is a cowardly, unmanly proposition. It seeks to evade a direct issue before the people, by putting it before the legislatures of the several States. It is a sneaking attempt to rob the citizens of each State of their right to determine the question for themselves. If the radicals of Pennsylvania are so enamored of the negro that he must be allowed to exercise the privileges of a voter, let them confer these franchises themselves, and not invoke the aid of strangers in other States. If they must clothe the man and brother with all the rights of a citizen, let them amend the Constitution of Pennsylvania. It is only necessary to strike out the word "white" where it occurs, and the thing is done. But the radicals evidently prefer to reach their darling purpose by an amendment to the Constitution which will change the form and spirit of the federal government.

With the democrats, this question rises far above negro suffrage. To them it is a matter of small moment whether a few thousand negroes shall be added to the radical vote of Pennsylvania. Negro suffrage is now doing its worst in the South, where the white population is given over to the domination of the semi-barbarous blacks and their vulgar and impudent carpet-bag masters. They prefer that the Constitution of Pennsylvania shall be amended that the negro may be admitted to citizenship, rather than that the Constitution of their country shall be utterly destroyed, by the subversion of the power and dignity of the several States. Even if negro suffrage be the great boon which its advocates claim it to be, it is still not important enough to be obtained at the sacrifice of the present form of government. If this amendment shall succeed, the power and dignity of Pennsylvania in the Union are gone forever. It is the entering wedge which the enemies of the federal government are employing for its destruction. It is the instrument which is to be used by canting hypocrites in the name of humanity, to subvert the liberties of the people.

—Since the above article was placed in type, the bill proposing a new amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which is to be article XV, passed the House, by a vote of 150 to 42, Bingham, Baker, Hawkins and Polsley alone among the radicals, voting in the negative. The text of the bill is as follows:

Be it resolved, etc., Two-thirds of both houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures, shall be held as part of said Constitution.

Section 1. The right of any citizen of the United States shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, by reason of race, color or previous condition of slavery of any citizen, or class of citizens of the United States.

Second. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

MR. JOHN W. FORNEY, editor of the Philadelphia Press, is traveling in the South, and is writing letters ... his own initials to his paper. In a late letter from Lenoir, North Carolina, he is "delighted to find the people of the "State so temperate and orderly;" he "has met a great number of the Con-"federate [why not rebel, O FORNEY?] "officers, and in every instance found "them courteous, intelligent, and full "of inquiries;" the election of Grant "is regarded by this whole population "as the best thing that could have hap-"pened to them;" and, on every side, when he is not surprised he is overjoyed at the goodness, loilty, and prosperity of the people. How is this? Does a closer inspection show that the loil correspondents have been guilty of great enexactness in their accounts of people and things in the South? Or has this glowing account something to do with the Southern land speculations of a certain Philadelphia company?

P. GRAY MEEK, Esq., editor of the Bellefonte Watchman, against whom the officials of the Dickenson Seminary, at Williamsport, brought a suit for libel, has been found not guilty by the jury trying the cause. This thing of prosecuting editors for libel will soon be Aus ge speilt. And so itshould be.

THE DEFICIENCY BILL.

Again Congress is called to confront real features of the Appropriation bill of the last Congress. At the time when the appropriations were made it was clearly shown that there would be a heavy deficiency, but the arguments went for nothing. It did not suit the puposes of the Radical majority at that time to make a full and fair exhibit of what the actual expenses of the Government were certain to be. A presidential election was to be held, and the party in power, to stave off defeat, resolved to make such appropriations as would serve to covince those of the people who were not versed in governmental affairs that the public expenses were not as heavy as represented by the Democratic journals. But murder will out. The Deficiency bill now before Congress will amount to some twenty-one million dollars. The fraud and treachery of the Radical party are so clearly shown in this transaction, that it is to be hoped that the next appropriation bill will be passed in such a form as will enable the people to know in advance what the probable expenses of the Government will be. A deficit of twenty-one million indicates shameful ignorance of governmental expenses on the part of Congress—being charitable enough to attribute the deficit to ignorance. But such was not the real cause. Congress knew, as well as it knew that it was in session, that the appropriations last year were too small. The figures and protests of the heads of the various departments were completely disregarded. Partisan purposes were to be subserved, and all other considerations made to conform to this end. We hope the fact that such an enormous deficiency as twenty-one million will open the eyes of the people to the true condition of affairs.—Evening Herald.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.

In the Senate, Mr. Edmunds, from the Committee on retrenchment, reported back House bill amending the tenure-of-office act, with a substitute authorizing the President to remove a cabinet officer at pleasure, during the recess of the Senate, and to suspend any officer during the recess without the assignment of special reasons therefor. The majority of the judiciary committee reported against the admission of Senator Hill, of Georgia, at present. The bill relative to the Central Pacific railroad was then taken up and discussed until the hour of adjournment.

In the House a large number of bills and resolutions were introduced and referred. Mr. Robinson, of New York, introduced a resolution protesting against the ratification of the treaty for the payment of the Alabama claims. It was also referred. The consideration of the Pacific railroad bill was then resumed, and after some debate was referred to the committee on public lands.

WASHINGTON, January 26.

In the Senate a bill was introduced to reorganize the Navy Department. Several other bills were introduced and referred. The annual pension appropriation bill and the Military Academy appropriation bill were reported back by the Committee on appropriations, with amendments. The bill in relation to the Cental Pacific railroad was discussed at considerable length.

The House, apparently not anxious to proceed to business, spent much time in deciding points of order and calling the yeas and nays. The bill of Mr. Lynch, of Maine, providing for the gradual resumption of specie payments, coming up, it was discussed by that gentleman and others.

WASHINGTON, January 27.

In the Senate the judiciary committee reported adversely on the resolution to pay Southern Senators from the beginning of the Fortieth Congress, and also on the memorial to provide by law for the election of President and Vice-President directly by the people. Mr. Chandler introduced a bill to prevent the collection of illegal imposts under the color of State authority. After the consideration of other business the funding bill was taken up, and Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, advocated it at considerable length, on the general subject of the finances of the country. He was followed by Mr. McCreery, of Kentucky, whose remarks elicited much attention. The subject was then laid over, and the bill in relation to the Central Branch Union Pacific railroad taken up. After debate the bill was rejected—yeas 26, nays 27.

In the House the specie bill of Mr. Lynch and the pension bill were briefly discussed and laid over. The universal suffrage bill was next taken up, and Mr. Eldridge made a speech against it, after which the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill was called up and considered, but not disposed of. The House held an evening session for general debate.

WASHINGTON, January 28.

The Senate passed the House bill allowing the present Representatives from the Southern States to nominate to the Secretary of the Navy midshipmen to be entered at the Naval Academy before the 4th of March. A number of bills were introduced and referred, among them one to construct, under the auspices of the Postoffice Department, a national line of telegraph between Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. The joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution so as to allow "universal suffrage" was again taken up, and several amendments proposed. The subject was discussed until the hour of adjournment.

In the House the army appropriation bill was reported. The reconstruction committee reported a resolution declaring that Georgia had not fully complied with the terms of the reconstruction acts; had excluded colored members of the Legislature, &c., and directing the committee on reconstruction to inquire whether any further legislation is necessary by the Fortieth Congress in relation to right of members from Georgia to seats in the House. This resolution was adopted—yeas 127, nays 3. The pension bill and Indian appropriation bill occupied the remainder of the day's session without any result.

WASHINGTON, January 29.

The Senate amended and passed the bill to reduce the military forces of the United States. A long debate then ensued on the proposed constitutional amendment to provide for colored suffrage, but no final result was reached.

In the House, the Postoffice appropriation bill was reported, as was also a bill appropriating $54,706 for the payment of salaries of the Patent Office. The consideration of the universal suffrage bill was then resumed, and occupied the time of the House up to the hour of adjournment.

THE "AMERICAN YEAR BOOK AND National Register for 1869," the advance pages of which have been received, promises to be the best work of the kind ever issued. It is as full of interesting statistics and useful knowledge as an egg is of meat. It contains in one volume such a store of varied information as could only be gathered, with much difficulty, from a whole library. The volume will be issued during the present month. As it will be sold only by subscription, those desiring to secure agencies should at once apply to or address O. D. Case & Co., Publishers, Hartford, Conn.

Memphis, January 28.—Gov. Clayton, of Arkansas, say with regard to affairs in that State, hat the militia had committed outrages, but the offenders, as far as practicable, were summarily dealt with. The militia acted as well as any other. Many outrages are committed by marauders following in their wake, representing themselves to be militia. The officers instructed the citizens to shoot down all who pretend to belong to the militia.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

"Let us have peace." Yes, but peace is not to be secured by such an administration as Governor Clayton's, in Arkansas. Within a few days, in Crittendon county, six white women were violated by his negro militia men—two, Mrs. Calloway and her sister—in the presence of Mr. Calloway, who when white militia came along before the escape of the black fiends, and handed him a gun, was not man enough to fire at the brutes.

Judge Olin, of the District Supreme Court of Washington city, has prepared a decision in the matter of the claimants of the $20,000 reward offered by the city of Washington for the capture of the assassination conspirators, in which he holds that the claimants, having been at the time in the civil and military service of the United States, are not entitled to any portion of the reward.

Eveline Courtney, an exceedingly pretty ballet girl of 16, having been dragged to the lowest depths of infamy, by a villain to whom she became fondly attached, attempted suicide in New Orleans, last week, by taking laudanum. She was rescued from death—to commence, perhaps, a happier career.

Allen Baker, the outlaw and wholesale "loyal" carpetbag murderer of Arkansas, has been killed by Mr. Thomas Orr, whom he thought he had hanged, but who was rescued before life was extinct.

A large number of friendly Ute Indians are hunting on the Republican river, and acting Gov. Hall, of Colorado, has issued a proclamation warning the military and civilians from molesting them.

"Jim Gannon" and "Mike Hoyt," whoever they are, had a brutal fight for $100, at Brooklyn, N. Y., nineteen rounds in one hour and four minutes, resulting in favor of Gannon. They evaded the law by wearing gloves.

The government commissioners have accepted another section of the Union Pacific road ending at the one thousandth mile post. The Central Pacific has completed 503 miles east of Sacramento.

The Governor of Pennsylvania has signed the death warrant for the execution of Gerald Eaton on the 25th of February for the murder of Timothy Heenan.

Memphis, January 28.—The Merchants' National Bank of Little Rock has suspended, with, it is reported, very heavy liabilities. The greater part falls on the government and New York.

A monument to cost $9,000 is to be erected over the remains of Sam Houston, at Huntsville, Texas.

Florida planters are preparing for planting cotton largely this year. They think the unusually cold weather there has destroyed the caterpillars.

In the cargo of the steamship Moravian, which sailed from Portland for Liverpool on Sunday, was about $80,000 worth of butter from Canada.

The four negro militia men who recently outraged five white ladies at Marion, Ark., were tried by court martial and shot.

A large number of burglaries have been recently reported in Washington, N. C., showing the existence, in that city, of an organized band of thieves.

PITTSBURG AND CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.—In his annual message to the City Councils the Mayor of Baltimore speaks in glowing terms of the trade advantages the completion of this important thoroughfare will open up to the City and State. He says he has been at some pains to ascertain through the most reliable sources, the condition and prospects of the road, and finds that the contractors are busily at work on the heaviest sections, and it is anticipated that the line will certainly be completed next year. From statistics furnished from the report of the road for last year, it seems that the gross earnings of the finished portion of fifty seven miles were $479,694, or $8,415.68 per mile. The entire receipts of the road, including the Fayette County Branch, were $508,626, of which $327,561 were devoted to the working expenses, leaving a balance of $181,065. Were the construction accounts closed it is believed that the larger portion of this amount would be applicable to the payment of interest on the funded debt of the company which is $4,000,000, at 7 per cent., and the unpaid interest of Baltimore city on $2,300,000 at 6 per cent. The receipts of the road last year were derived altogether from local sources, and from the development of practically about one-third of the territory tributary to it, and from this result the President is sanguine of defraying the interest liabilities of his company in a short time. Quotations from the report of the Board show a quarter million pounds of groceries shipped Eastward from Pittsburg last year, an increase of 30 per cent on the amount of 1867, and 100 per cent, on that of 1866, while the increased quantities of rolled and hammered iron, pig metal, queensware, glassware, &c., transported eastward by this road during the last year seem really astonishing.

Of the whole number 65,714 remained in New York State, 34,625 went to Illinois, 3,115 to Utah, and 5 to New Mexico, while all the Southern States received an aggregate of only 2,311.

DEMOCRATIC RULES.

John C. Black, Esq., Capt. P. G. Morgret, Hon. John G. Hartley, Hon. A. J. Snively, G. W. Bowser, Esq., Andrew Crisman, Esq., and Geo. Elder, Esq., Committee appointed at the late Convention to revise the rules of the Democratic party of Bedford County, and to make report to the County Committee, are requested to meet for the performance of their duty, at the Court House, on Wednesday evening, February 10th, 1869. Punctual attendance is requested at this important meeting.

SEVERAL MEMBERS OF COM.

PAY UP!—Our friends who have paid their subscriptions have our hearty thanks. Those who have not yet paid, will receive our thanks if they will call at our office and pay on Court week, or send the money by friends attending Court. We have, also, accounts for job work, estate advertising, &c., which must be settled. We need money. Come, friends, you know that we have been indulgent. Let us see now whether you appreciate our leniency.

An act has been passed by the Legislature incorporating the Bedford and Bridgeport Railroad Company. If it takes as long to build the twenty miles to Bridgeport as is does to build the six or seven miles to connect with the railroad east of Bedford, it will never be constructed.—Hollidaysburg Register.

To this "soft impeachment" we plead guilty, Davy, but we can assure you that it will not be the case in the proposed road from this place to Bridgeport, to connect with the Connellsville road. This Bridgeport route is not held by a corps of engineers, and the people flattered with promises to build, as was the case in the road to Mt. Dallas. The Connellsville road is now a fixed fact, and is destined to become a great thoroughfare, and our people are aroused to the importance of connecting with it, thus placing us nearer the seaboard, than by the Mt. Dallas road, and being in an almost direct line to the great west, and the gold and silver fields beyond the Rocky Mountains.—If our people do not set themselves earnestly to work to build this road over one of nature's easiest routes, they certainly stand very much in their own light. We fondly hope the thing may soon be consummated.

THE CASH SYSTEM.—That the cash system, if carried out by our business men, as it should be, would be to the advantage of the seller as well as to the buyer, must be admitted by every one. It can and should be adopted, at once, as it is the only correct mode of doing business. If everybody would pay cash, there would be no necessity for any one to ask for credit. It would enable the merchant to sell his goods at smaller profits, thus benefiting himself as well as the buyer. The Merchant, the Mechanic, the Farmer and the Laborer, should demand cash for all their work and for all they sell, thus enabling all to "pay as you go," which is the true philosopher's stone. Every man would know each day of his life how he stood financially, and there would be no necessity to resort to the bankrupt law to straighten up your affairs. We notice that the enterprising firm of J. B. Williams & Co., at Bloody Run, have resolved, after the first of April next, to sell only for cash or produce. Let other business men follow their example, and the cash system will soon be inaugurated.

REAL ESTATE MOVEMENTS.—Peter Ewalt, of Schellsburg, sold his fine property, with two acres of land outside the borough, to Henry Egolf, for $3,700.

Jacob Dull of the same place sold his house and lot to Perry Williams, for $900.

Henry C. Guyer, of Juniata tp., sold his farm to Singleton Suter for $4,700.

RAILROAD MEETING.—A meeting of the Incorporators of Bedford and Bridgeport Railroad Company will be held next Wednesday evening—Court week. Let there be a full attendance, and let the friends of the proposed road work in earnest for if we want a railroad to Bedford we must see to it ourselves and make one.

CHOICE AND RELIABLE GARDEN SEEDS.—The best and freshest garden seeds have always been sold at the Old Hardware Store of Hartley & Metzger. They have just received a great variety of choice hot-bed seeds from an old Philadelphia gardner. Every paper warranted fresh and genuine.

PRESTO CHANGE.—Prof. Whitney will give two entertainments, in this place, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, the 17th and 18th inst., for the benefit of the Cemetery Association. These entertainments are very amusing and will give our people a rare treat, as the Professor is considered a No. 1 performer in the art of prestodigitation.

CITIZENS of the county, attending court next week, are invited to visit G. R. Oster's spacious new store and examine their immense stock of new winter Goods. They are now offering great inducements to cash buyers.

MARRIED.

TRIPOLETT—MORTIMORE—On the 19th ult, by the Rev. H. Heckerman, Mr. Thomas M. Tripolett to Miss Mary Jane Mortimore, both of Friends Cove.

DIED.

McCLINTOCK—John McClintock was born near Harrisburg, Pa., August 2nd, 1782. He lived in Chambersburg about 70 years, and in all the various relations of life showed forth sterling integrity. His Christian life was of a high and noble order. It commenced in early life, and throughout his entire course, he kept the Prize in view. He read his Bible through in consecutive order 28 times; and prayed in his family morning and evening, allowing nothing to interfere with this sacred obligation. He loved the doctrines, discipline, and usages of the M. E. Church, and could say with the Psalmist, "One thing have I desired of the Lord: that will I seek after, that I may dwell in the House of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and enquire in His Temple." Trials and afflictions however awaited him. His wife, who shared with him the joys and sorrows of a long life, was laid in the silent tomb on the 23d of July, 1864, and on the 30th his property was destroyed by fire, in the burning of Chambersburg by the rebels. This was the occasion of him making his home with his son-in-law, G. Blymyer, in Bedford, where on the 22nd ult, he sweetly fell asleep in Jesus in his 87th year. Just before he bade farewell, he exclaimed, "Oh Death where is thy Sting! Oh Grave where is thy Victory! Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth; Yea saith the Spirit that they may rest from their labors: and their works do follow them."

He has gone to inherit a Mansion, beyond the reach and power of Rebels;

"To view the Lamb in his own Light;
Whom Angels dimly see—
And gaze, transported at the sight.
To all Eternity."

EASTMAN & KENDALL.

65 Hanover Street, Boston, Massachusetts, Licensed Wholesale Dealers by the U. S. Established 1864.

The goods sold by us are described in printed slips or checks, which are sent to any address at the rate of ten cents each, in clubs of ten, twenty, thirty, forty, sixty, one hundred, one hundred and fifty, two hundred, &c. For a dollar the receiver can buy the article described in the check, or exchange it for any one of two or three hundred other articles in our circular. As a guarantee of the worth of every article sold by us, any article on our checks can be exhanged for a White Bed Quilt or a Silver Plated Revolving Table Castor, with Five Bottles. Read what the great paper of the Northwest, Toledo Blade (Nasby's paper), says of us:—

"What We Saw at The Hub.—Curiosity led us, while recently in Boston, to visit the dollar establishment of Messrs. Eastman & Kendall. Their trade has become so immense that they now occupy four stories in the elegant block No. 65 Hanover Street. The name of this firm has become as 'familiar as household words' throughout the Middle and Western States, while as prompt and honorable business men they are endorsed by the best firms in their own city. Their Club system of selling goods has done more, we believe, during the past few years to keep down the prices of domestic articles in every day use, than all other influences combined. Most of their goods are manufactured expressly for them, as, for instance, cutlery made to their order in Sheffield, England, and imported in large quantities for their dollar trade alone."

Now is the time to get signers and send in clubs. Ladies specially wanted as agents.

Partial list of articles allowed as commission to any one sending in clubs:—

Club Of Thirty. [$3.] 21 yards of elegant bleached or unbleached cotton cloth. Photograph album, 100 pictures, elegant morocco binding, revolving oval band, silver plated table castor, 5 bottled, ladies' dress pattern, a ladie's richly-ornamented black walnut writing desk, fancy cassimere pants pattern, large white all linen table cover, white lancaster counterpane, 20 yards calico, alhambra red quilt, ladies' morocco shopping bag, good cottage clock.

Club Of Sixty. [$6.] 42 yards bleached or unbleached cotton cloth, fashionable dress pattern, 3 1-2 yards wool cassimere for pants and vest pattern, fashionable woolen shawl. White marseilles counterpane, lady's large genuine morocco shopping bag, lady's fashionable cloak pattern, pair good white woolen blankets, black alpaca dress pattern, 4 yards double width waterproof cloaking, 6 yards farmers' good wool frocking, set misses furs muff and collar.

Club Of One Hundred. [$10.] 66 yards good bleached or unbleached cotton cloth, one yard wide, lady's or gent's new silver hunting case watch, fashionable thibet dress pattern, elegant black alpaca dress pattern, one pair of good white woolen blankets, large size, ladies' fashionable double woolen shawl, two large, fine, bleached linen table covers, with one dozen large sized dinner napkins to match, 25 yards hemp carpeting, 4 1-2 yards fine cassimere for suit, one dozen ivory handled steel bladed knives and forks, one dozen Rogers' best silver plated forks on white metal, portable sewing and embroidering machine, 7 1-2 yards double-width waterproof cloaking, set of furs, muff and collar

It is impossible to give a complete list of goods, but agents desiring articles not named above, will please mention them, and we will accommodate them if possible. If you have a club ready, or intend to raise one for any other house, don't fail to send it to us, and at the same time ask for our New Circular and Mammoth Exchange List. Paracting as agents for other dollar houses in this ties city, will please send us their address, and that of a dozen or so of their male and female friends, as we can make it for their advantage to do so.—Male and female agents wanted as usual.

SEND MONEY IN REGISTERED LETTERS in every instance, and we guarantee that it will come perfectly safe.

N. B. Our sale should not be classed with dollar jewelry sales and gift enterprises. Send to us for decision respecting our business by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, dated Washington, Nov. 4, 1868. If you want prompt returns for your money, send your clubs to

YOU ALL

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia.

Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or any thing like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for

Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate diseases of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

is entirely vegetable and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made, are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific Chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in case where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These remedies are the best

ever known and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order, keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no diseases will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything, you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system.

Yours Truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES TAOMPSON.

Judge of the Supreme Conrt of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eigth, below Coates Street.

CAUTION.

Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The Genuine have the signature of C. M. JACKSON on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

Price of the Bitters, $1 per bottle; Or, a half dozen for $5.

Price of the Tonic, $1 50 per bottle; Or, a half dozen for $7 50.

The tonic is put up in quart bottles.

Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies that are so universally used and so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the

FAMILY

SEWING MACHINE.

The superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either Family use or Manufacturing purposes, are so well established and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellences is no longer considered necessary.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor, or expense, is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the Best Sewing Machine in existence. The machine in question is Simple, Compact, Durable and Beautiful. It is quiet, light running, and never before attempted upon a single Machine,—using either SILK, TWIST, LINEN OR COTTON THREAD, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the Unique, Useful, and Popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company, have been prepared for enclosing the new Machine.

A faint idea, however, can at best be conveyed through the medium of a (necessarily) limited advertisement; and we therefore urge every person in quest of a Sewing Machine, by all means to examine and test, if they can possibly do so, all the leading rival Machines before making a purchase. A selection can then be made understandingly. Branches or agencies for supplying the "Singer" Machines will be found in nearly every city and town throughout the civilized world, where Machines will be cheerfully exhibited, and any information promptly furnished. Or communications may be addressed to

BITTER CORDIAL.

This medical preparation is now offered to the public as a reliable substitute for the many worthless compounds which now flood the market. It is purely vegetable, composed of various herbs, gathered from the great storehouse of nature, and selected with the utmost care. It is not recommended as a CURE ALL, but by its direct and salutary influence upon the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Lungs, Stomach and Bowels, it acts both as a preventive and cure for many of the diseases to which those organs are subject. It is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt and speedy remedy for DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, BOWEL COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, LOWNESS OF SPIRITS, FAINTINGS, SICK-HEADACHE, &c. For Chills and Fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

THE GREAT DESIDERATUM OF THE AGE.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one Medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, LISTLESSNESS, LANGUOR and LOSS OF APPETITE, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For LIVER COMPLAINT and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or GREEN SICKNESS, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For DYSENTERY OR DIARRHŒA, but one mild dose is generally required.

For RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK and LOINS, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For SUPPRESSION a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

We can speak of the merits of the Waters' Pianos from personal knowledge as being of the very best quality.—Christian Intelligencer.

The Waters' Pianos are built of the very best and most thoroughly seasoned material.—Advocate and Journal.

Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' store the very best assortment of Pianos, Melodeons and Organs to be found in the United States.—Graham's Magazine.

MUSICAL DOINGS.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming advertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith were ever thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianofortes now in our residence (where it has stood for many years,) of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet-toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some of the best amateur players in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists, have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first-class instrument. Stronger endorsement we could not give.—Home Journal. jan15,'69.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this Sarsaparilla: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhoea or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations and Female Diseases. are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Miscellaneous.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometime subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Billious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.
